ASKEL

Crew sea service and tickets, in one place.

A quick start for operators. Set up your company in a few minutes and see every crew member's progress toward their next AMSA near coastal ticket.

1 Create your company

On a computer or phone, open askel.com.au/dashboard.html, sign up with your work email, and choose Create company. You get a short company code for your crew.

2 Invite your crew

In the dashboard, tap Copy message and send it to your crew. It contains the code and instructions.

Crew open askel.com.au/app on their phone, create a free account in Settings, and enter your code under Your company. Crew pay nothing, ever.

3 Get it signed when it suits

Crew log their days as they go, and the app counts them against AMSA's requirements for each ticket. When a crew member is ready, they send a link to the master or engineer.

The supervisor signs on their phone in about 30 seconds, with no account and no printing. Askel fills in the AMSA Form 771 with their signature on it.

4 Read your dashboard

See who is ready to apply, who is close, and who is waiting on a signature. Sort and filter your crew, add private notes, and print a crew progress report.

Askel can also prepare a sea service letter and an application pack for each crew member who wants one.

What you see, and what you don't

You see

- Names of crew who join your company
- The tickets they hold and are working towards
- Their days counted toward each ticket, and which are signed
- Who is waiting on a signature

You do not see

- Date of birth, phone or email
- Their vessel history or entries
- Anything from before they joined

Crew can leave your company at any time.

Where is the data kept?

On Australian servers (Sydney). Crew choose whether to share their progress with an employer.
